Would you like to participate in the development of relevant locations/organizations where people can meet each other and share their knowledge? Then this ambassador's program is right up your alley.

With the Seats2meet.com Connect program, we transform existing locations into relevant work spaces by connecting people with each other. This program offers software and tools that make it possible to assemble a variety of people at those locations, where they are facilitated with relevant meetings and the sharing of knowledge.

This way, that location will become an attractive place, where new types of business will be created in various ways. This software is already being used successfully at the following types of locations: corporate surroundings, workspace centers, libraries, schools, hospitals and lunchrooms.

In short: It helps location stakeholders to grow, making the physical location a 'Place to be'.
